EDP

To Katherine M. Nehubian

CLASS ODE

(Tune: "Auld Lang Syne")

From harbor ne'er before so dear
  Our ship sets sail at last,
With all our hopes and many a fear
  A-flying from her mast.
Aware that shoals ahead there'll be,
  With courage staunch and true
We'll steer our craft o'er life's rough sea
  And bring honor unto you.

O Barnstable! O School so dear!
  May thy ideals fine and high
Direct our course thru every year,
  Make your name ring to the sky.
Fond love and reverence to you due
  Shall e'er in mem'ry dwell.
Now, Alma Mater, Classmates, too,
  All hail and fare thee well.

— Robert N. Cahoon

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1936

On September 8, 1930, one hundred and forty-five members of the class of 1936 set sail on a six years' cruise around the harbor of Barnstable High School. The first three of these years were spent largely in keeping to the channel and getting our sea legs. During these three years twenty of our members decided that the trip wasn't worth the work that each had to do and either stayed on shore at the end of the summer vacations or jumped overboard during the year. Thus on September 6, 1933, but one hundred and twenty-six members weighed anchor under Captain Alexander Sutherland with mates Gerald Cahill, Jean Crocker, and Francis McGillen, and chaperoned by Miss Hayden. Too headstrong to stay within the lee of the harbor, we often cruised farther than was wise, anchoring only when we needed to raise funds.

Our first and only social event was a Letter Dance for this purpose, and from which we made twenty-two dollars and forty-five cents. With the deck appropriately hung with large score cards of the different games and with dummies, we enjoyed dancing until one o'clock. Although we were anchored close to the jetty, no one was allowed to leave the ship and stroll on shore.

This year many of us began to be extremely interested in band or orchestra under the instruction and leadership of Mr. Griffiths, who came to us several times a week, and we enjoyed giving several concerts on deck to which our parents and friends were invited.

One by one about twenty of the class gave up the trip. Some hadn't yet been able to settle themselves to "A Life on the Ocean Wave"; some disliked the duties that each was required to perform; and others craved independence and more pocket money.

June 22, 1934, after a forty weeks' cruise together, we dropped anchor and went ashore for the summer, each his own way, but promising to sail together again in the fall.

September 5 saw one hundred and three of the class eager to set forth for another year. However, no sooner were we aboard, than we received orders from the new harbor master, Melvin C. Knight, not to go outside the breakwater, but to stay well within the harbor. At first we chaffed under the restraint and thought our pleasure was spoiled, but gradually have we come to realize that, thru being restrained then, we have learned how to sail more wisely and safely.

On this trip around the inner bay, Everett Hopkins was captain; Norman Drew, Betty Bassett and Louise Lebel, mates; and Miss Buckler was chaperon.

This year Mr. Connor came to open our eyes to the science of the deep; Mr. Taft, to persuade us that while "A Wet Sheet and a Flowing Sea" were well and good, there was much to be said for agriculture; and Miss Long, to superintend the preparation of meals.

This year, too, both boys and girls formed glee clubs under the direction of Mr. Griffiths and Mr. Freeman, and oftentimes "The Bullfrog on the Bank" became "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep."

Soon after our reunion, Gerry Cahill said no Lewis Bay for him! He wanted the Great Atlantic and Pacific — so left us. By so doing, he missed knowing Genevieve Hadley and Edward Kneale, who joined us.

It was, of course, the boys of our class who won for the team the Cape Cod Football Championship in the fall of 1934.

In order to raise money for expenses, we anchored in March, 1935, and gave a benefit movie, "Grand Old Girl," starring May Robson. From this we made sixty dollars and sixty-four cents.

This same spring golf was added to our list of sports.

Memorial Day we thrilled at the first appearance of the band in its beautiful uniforms — white shirts and trousers, red and white jaunty overseas caps, and cardinal capes, sometimes folded back and revealing white satin linings. At the formal opening of the bridges across the Cape Cod Canal in July, our band rightly took first prize.

June 8, many of our class participated in the track meet at Keith's field, Brockton, where we won the South Shore Interscholastic Track Championship for the first time.

The outstanding social activity of the year was the Junior Prom, for which the deck was transformed into the pillared veranda of a Colonial house. This brought us to the end of our junior cruise, and again we anchored and separated for the summer. It is worth noting that while many had found reasons for absenting themselves from the class frequently during the year, Barbara Bearse, Marion Coggeshall, Milton Ellis, Angelo Panesis, Kauko Pukki, and Harriet Reavis had not missed a single day from being on board!

During the summer the hold of the ship underwent alterations. Room 106, which had served as a combination library and study hall for several years, was partitioned into two rooms, one to be utilized as a regular classroom and the other to be devoted to the school library.

For our last trip together, ninety-four of us seasoned sailors hurried aboard September 8. Muriel Simmons from Lowell joined us at this time. Captain Jack Lebel and First Mate Betty Bassett were to guide this cruise, Jean Crocker was made keeper of the log, and Paul Hurley was chosen purser. Miss Nehubian was class sponsor. Two new pilots, Batchelder and Hurst, were added to the harbor.

Early in the fall, Harbor Master Knight organized the Athletic Association for the interest of all sailors within the harbor and with All Sports tickets, which would admit members to all athletic events conducted by B. H. S. We who gave our support to this were pleasurably surprised toward the end of the spring season by being invited as guests to a dance with balloons, and confetti, and free refreshments!

This year, too, a radio was installed on the lower deck so that we might enjoy music with our meals.

At Christmas were two activities of contrasting nature: the first was "A Pageant of Christmas" under the direction of Mr. Freeman; the other was the Senior Dance. For this the deck was set with evergreens, laden with snow; icicles hung from the masts and rigging; but there was no chill on our spirits.

In January, at the annual football banquet provided for the squad by interested citizens and parents of the boys, David Greene of our class was presented the Hinkle trophy for outstanding performance.

The girls' basketball team, composed mostly of members of our class, has won the basketball championship for the past three years.

In February, the class, under Miss Nehubian's direction, produced a minstrel show which netted them five hundred dollars for gifts and Class Day.

Three times this year did "The Clipper" appear in the harbor to our great delight, for we enjoyed all it had to tell.

In the spring several made trips ashore: In March, Harriet Scudder, Elsa Anderson, Maxine Stevens, Roger Gott, and Andrew Olsen represented the class of '36 in the All New England Music Festival at Springfield; and in April, Clayton Maud and Henry Morin spoke in the Massachusetts speech tournament at Williamsburg. Two weeks later, Maud broadcasted his oration over WAAB.

In recognition of the outstanding work by the girls in basketball during the last three years, the American Legion sponsored a banquet in March.

At a general assembly on deck in May, Mr. Edward Teran presented the Standard-Times trophy to B. H. S. as winners of the Cape Cod High School Basketball Championship. On this team the playing of Gerard Besse, '36, had been conspicuous.

During the last two months, we pitched and tossed and bustled with preparations for sailing out on the deep June 17.

Tonight we hold our farewell banquet, and to the bon voyages of all, with tremulous voices we reply, "God bless you."

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the class of '36, having booked passage on the seagoing Senior Ship, shortly to be launched from the harbor of Barnstable High School; well aware of the shoals upon which we may ground, the rocks upon which we may be broken, and the storms by which we may be tossed; and realizing that even if we come safely through the perils of our voyage, we will be scattered in different ports, do tonight draw up this, our last WILL and TESTAMENT.

To our sponsor, Miss Nehubian, to Captain Jack Lebel, and to mates Bette Bassett, Jean Crocker, and Paul Hurley we sincerely give thanks for their help and guidance in our launching.

To Harbor Master Knight and to his port officials we give appreciation for clearance papers and passports.

To all those whom we leave on the shores of Barnstable High School harbor — the fresh landlubbers, the sophomoric longshoremen, and the junior crew who must wait another year before sailing — to these we leave our farewells, our love in this harbor that it may add to their own, and especially this advice: that they keep our harbor clean — the shores unlittered by filth; the waters clear and unmuddied.

Jack Lebel wills his record as class president, president of the A. A., and football captain to any junior to equal.

BARNSTABLE HIGH SCHOOL BAND
1935-1936

B. H. S. Band is here photographed in uniform for the first time officially. The co-operation of school and civic organizations in addition to the band's own hard work, made possible these uniforms in our school colors. The band took first prize at the opening of the new Cape Cod Canal bridges and has also won other awards for public service. The past year has been outstanding in successful effort. Fourteen members of the B. H. S. Band are letter men in music. Four members graduate with this year's class.

FOOTBALL

The football team for the season of 1935 emerged with four victories, five defeats, and two ties. Despite the fact that Coach Bangs had only mediocre material, this team, although it lost more games than it won, proved that it was still worthy of representing Barnstable by battling a superior Falmouth team to a tie.

Barnstable opened its season at home against Stoneham and came out at the small end of a 6-0 score.

The team was more fortunate in its second encounter by defeating a weak Hanover team 37-0.

Barnstable then played Angel Guardian at home and battled to a 6-6 tie.

In the Falmouth game at Falmouth, B. H. S. was rated the under-dog because of Falmouth's undefeated record.

In the game against Holy Family at New Bedford, Barnstable showed flashes of power but lost by 14-8.

Barnstable then chalked up a win against Provincetown by the score of 27-0, but this was really only a trial game since Provincetown had a weak team.

We lost to Monsignor Coyle High at Taunton by 14-0, but the entire game was played during the rain and the mud was up around the players' ankles. Here again the weakness of the pass defense was shown, as both touchdowns were scored by passes.

Barnstable beat Yarmouth by a score of 13-6 and in spite of the low score, was the better team since we kept the ball in the enemy's territory most of the time.

B. H. S. was badly defeated by a strong veteran Whitman team to the tune of 31-0. This was the worst showing Barnstable made all the year even though Whitman was probably the best team that they faced.

On the day of the Provincetown game at Hyannis, it was raining and a strong wind was blowing, but it was decided to play the game out. Barnstable had the wind with them and scored 22 points in the first period. This was all that they were able to score because in the other quarters it was impossible to gain ground against the wind.

On Thanksgiving Day Barnstable met Falmouth at Hyannis, and battled a 0-0 tie. In the first half Barnstable and Falmouth were evenly matched, but in the second half Barnstable's vicious tackles and blocks began to take effect and Falmouth found it necessary to substitute. Barnstable showed itself stronger in the second half but was still unable to put the ball over.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

On the fourth of December, Coach Vernon Bearse of Barnstable High School conducted his first basketball practice of the season. With Gerry Besse the only letter man returning, the future looked pretty gloomy. After weeks of grooming them, Coach Bearse placed his quintet on the court for the first game, which they won 37-17, beating Yarmouth. Everett Hopkins, center; Gerry Besse and "Bud" Doudican, forwards; and Captain Norman Drew and Tom Coleman, guards, gave the Yarmouth five a great deal of trouble. Later in the year the two Maki brothers saw a lot of service, starring in many games along with Leroy Hopkins, captain-elect.

Losing only three games, to Dolgeville, Fairhaven, and Sandwich, the Barnstable boys snatched the Cape League title by beating Sandwich in a playoff. In the South Shore Championship Tourney, the boys reached the semi-finals, only to be beaten by Bridgewater.

After beating every Cape team, Barnstable has hung up its suits till next year when another championship team is expected, as four veterans will be returning.

Rear Row: Harriet Scudder, Elsa Anderson, Louise Lebel, Genevieve Hadley.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

After the hockey season had become a matter of history, Coach Katherine Nehubian issued a call for prospective candidates for the Barnstable basketball squad. A group of about fifty girls started basketball practice at the beginning of the season. Out of this group twenty-four of the more experienced girls were chosen to represent the squad, from which the first team was chosen, including Captain Marguerite Thatcher, Marion Coggeshall, Louise Lebel, Ellen Pelton, Rita Corrigan, and Barbara Bearse. Credit for our success goes to our dependable coach and to the other members of the squad, who gave the first team a lot of hard practice and training.

Out of the eight games played we were able to win six, tie one, and lose one.

GIRLS' HOCKEY

The Barnstable High Hockey team of '35 consisted of a squad of thirty-five players. The season was opened September 14, and a five game schedule was arranged. Although the girls did not meet with the success of some previous years, nevertheless, they played a commendable game. The first team was composed mostly of inexperienced players and consisted of Captain Marion Coggeshall, Louise Lebel, Agnes Weigert, Claire Dunham, Eleanor Corrigan, Elsa Anderson, Harriet Scudder, Maxine Stevens, Virginia Richmond, Adele Nelson, and Gloria Woodward. From the four games which they played, one was lost, one won, and two were tied.

We hope that next year's team will have a greater number of victories, and we know that our able coach, Miss Nehubian, will do her best to produce a stronger team.
